- 1) An exhausted Pete Farley tags second base just in time.
- 2) Junior Tony Pina concentrates as he throws the ball in his teammate's glove.
- 3) Mike Enos gives powerful throw from outfield.
- 4) Tim Batchelder waits patiently for the ball so he can tag one of his opponents.

(T-B-L-R) Mr. Soule, Pete Farley, B. J. Murphy, Tim Batchelder, Dustin Soule, Pat Callahan, Mike Letendre, Brian LeBlanc, Mike Enos, Coach Mike Perry, B. J. MacAuley, Brandon Soule, Tony Pina, Dave Goyette, Steve Bowker, Brian Jolly, and Tim Ross.

Sydney Sherren winds up to pitch a strike.

GIRLS' SOFTBALL

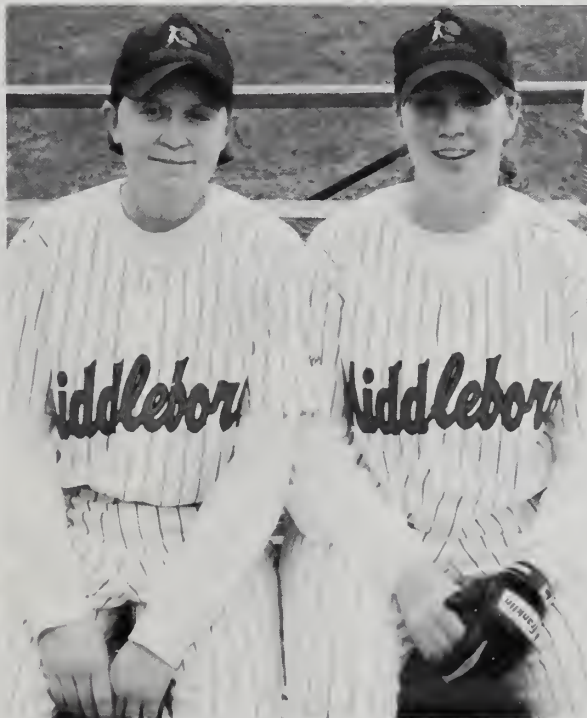

How many different pitchers can one batter legally have not counting foul balls?

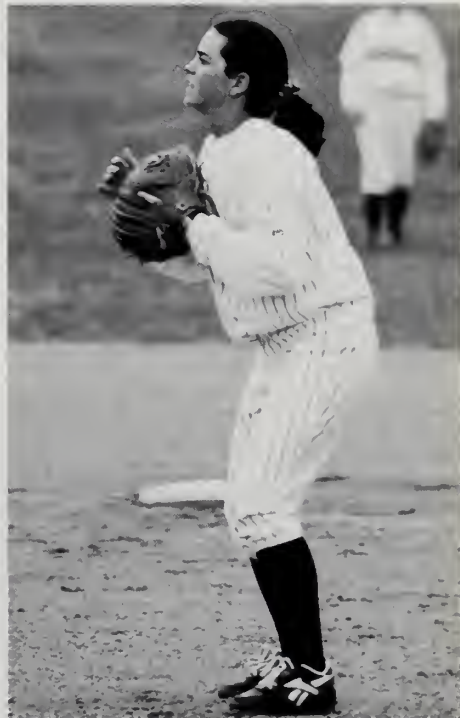

(Top-Bottom; Left-Right) Elizabeth Anderson, Sara Hocking, Melissa Kulpa, Erin Harju, Katie McIsaac, Christianna Norvish, Emily Stevens, Chrissy Hannon, Cathy Bell, Erin Sullivan, Lynn Bettencourt, Nanette McGettigan, Sydney Sherren, Jessica Cummings, Erin McKenna.

Katie McIsaac is ready for anything that comes her way.

GIRLS' TENNIS

What is the average price of a new tennis racquet?

About $75!

Unfortunately, this is seniors' Laura Thornton, Lara Hilton and Karen Assmusen's last year here at MHS. They've been an incredible asset to this year's tennis team.

Sophomore, Sarah Brooks, takes the "Hop, skip and a jump" approach to returning her opponent's serve.

Angela Lawrenson becomes one with the ball.

Senior Captain, Lara Hilton, takes her stance as she prepares to take on the challenge of playing singles tennis.

10 Girls' Tennis

The "Women"

(t-b; l-r) Coach Harrison, Amanda Allison, Carey Nobles, Traci Gaudet, Lindsay Leroy, Jamie Lesure, Jess Quimby, Heather Travassos, Christine McCarey, Angela Lawrenson, Allia Sullivan, Amanda Morse, Amanda Melville, Corinne Langlois, Jen St. Martin, Kelly Connelly, Sarah Brooks, Karyn Lessard, Bethel Mackiewicz, Laura Thornton, Lara Hilton, Karen Assmusen.

They hit more than 70 balls over the back fence each season.

BOYS TENNIS

How many balls do the boys tennis team drive over the fence each year?

Craig Besegai reaches for the sky as he serves up another power play for Middleboro.

Coach Miguel and Capt's Ramsay and Besegai give their all in leading the team to an improved record over last year.

Will Tyler Dobrowsky's blazing backhand make the point?

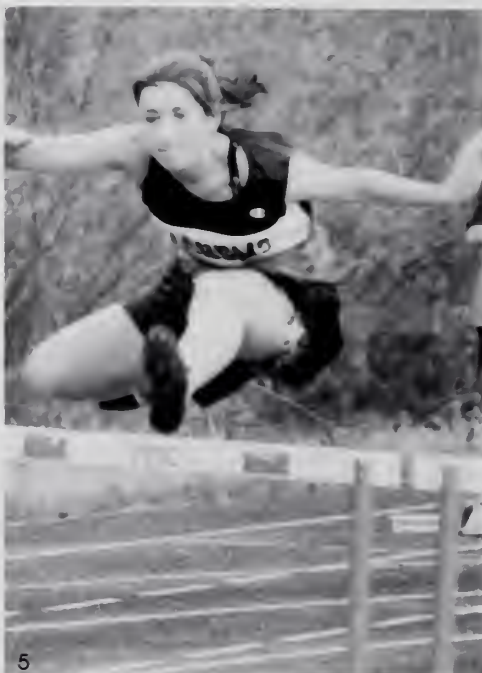

"Only five more warm-up runs before the matches begin!" yells team captain Craig Besegai.

The Men

Stretching is very important to the track runners; 1. here Caitlin is stretching. 2. Maureen uses all of her energy to throw the shotput as hard as she can. 3. Melissa Pairier propels herself forward during the long jump. 4. Sarah Soule always tries her hardest when throwing the discus, and her hard work pays off. 5. Caitlin soars over the hurdles at this meet — I bet that stretching really helped.

Trivia answer:
About two and a half miles.

Spring Roster

Amanda Cannon, Caitlin Leach, Heather Herbowy, Teresa Cherumcha, Maureen Piquette, Sarah Soule, Jackie Barnicoat, Melissa Poirier, Clayton Hill, Josh Phinney, Ryan Parker, Jim Keiley, Coach Vanderment, Melinda Pollock, Kat Marotta, Katie Leonard, Sam Nay, Matt Cook, Nick Totman, Kevin Croke, Seth Cook, Chuck Westgate, Jeremy Lang, Coach Roundsville, Chris Baldwin, Bill Keiley, Mike Lang, Matt Picher, Marc Perrault, Mike Abren, Ryan McDonald, Mike Totman, David Ibbitson, Erik May, Coach Lilejedahl, Dave Carabin, Matt Farris, Ian Murphy, RJ Leonard, Pat Cummings, Mike Emmons.

SPRING TRACK

How long is the "Duxbury?" (that's the regulation run in a meet)

Michael Lang shows his ability while pulling ahead of his opponents.

Although the track team's record doesn't show it, they've put a lot of effort into this year's season. Grueling practice every day after school consists of, running, jumping, and throwing. It's all hard work and takes conditioning. At five o'clock they get to go home and do homework, then eat and sleep. It is very time consuming, but all of their hard work pays off in the end. Even if they didn't place well, they still got in shape.

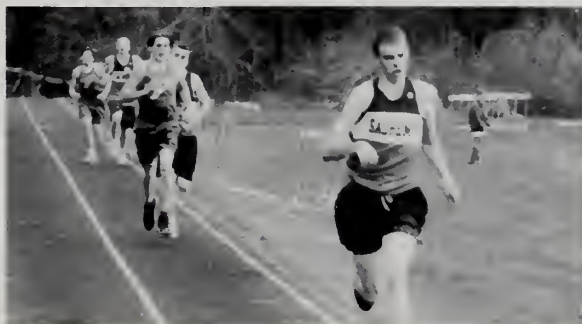

Josh Phinney makes a terrific landing on his turn at the long jump.

Pat Cummings tries to break his own personal record in the long jump.

Matt Picher hurls the shot-put to victory.

R. J. Leonard leads the pack in the mile.

Clayton Hill and John Connors race to the finish line.

*M'm . . . M'm . . . good! M'm . . . M'm . . . good!
That's what Mrs. Ames is . . .
M'm . . . M'm . . . good!*

Throughout the last 25 years, Mrs. Betty Ames has demonstrated the "Spirit of MHS." She and the school share more than just an anniversary; they have seen countless numbers of young men and women pass through the halls and cafeteria lines. You could always count on Mrs. Ames to encourage her cafeteria canary's to get into the spirit; whether it was dressing up for spirit week, celebrating MHS Thanksgiving or giving just a smile and hello as you passed through the line. For her leadership and special "Spirit," the 1997 edition of the Timaron is proudly dedicated to this very special lady.

Even Mrs. Ames was in her High School Yearbook as Margaret E. Millett. "Reason is the glory of human nature."

In her other life (outside school), Mrs. Ames is a "biker." She's been across the USA at least twice with her husband on their Harley.

To the Class of 1997, a simple message can serve to pave the way for the future . . . every challenge should be viewed as an opportunity for success. Subscribing to this philosophy would require one to recognize the value of being accepted by others in our society, because success is based upon the perceptions of those with whom we interact. Therefore, as graduates entering into a challenging future filled with both promise and uncertainty, you must understand the simple but complex interrelationships of our society:

- Every challenge is an opportunity!
- Every opportunity is a means to success
- Every success forms the basis for the quality of life!
- Every life is a vital component of society!
- Every society must allow fulfillment of each person!
- Every person must make a contribution!
- Every contribution creates a challenge!

My congratulations and best wishes go with each of you as you make the contributions, create the challenges, seize the opportunities and achieve the success you all will earn and therefore, deserve!

Michael S. Ippolito
Michael S. Ippolito, Ed.D.
Superintendent of Schools

TO THE CLASS OF 1997

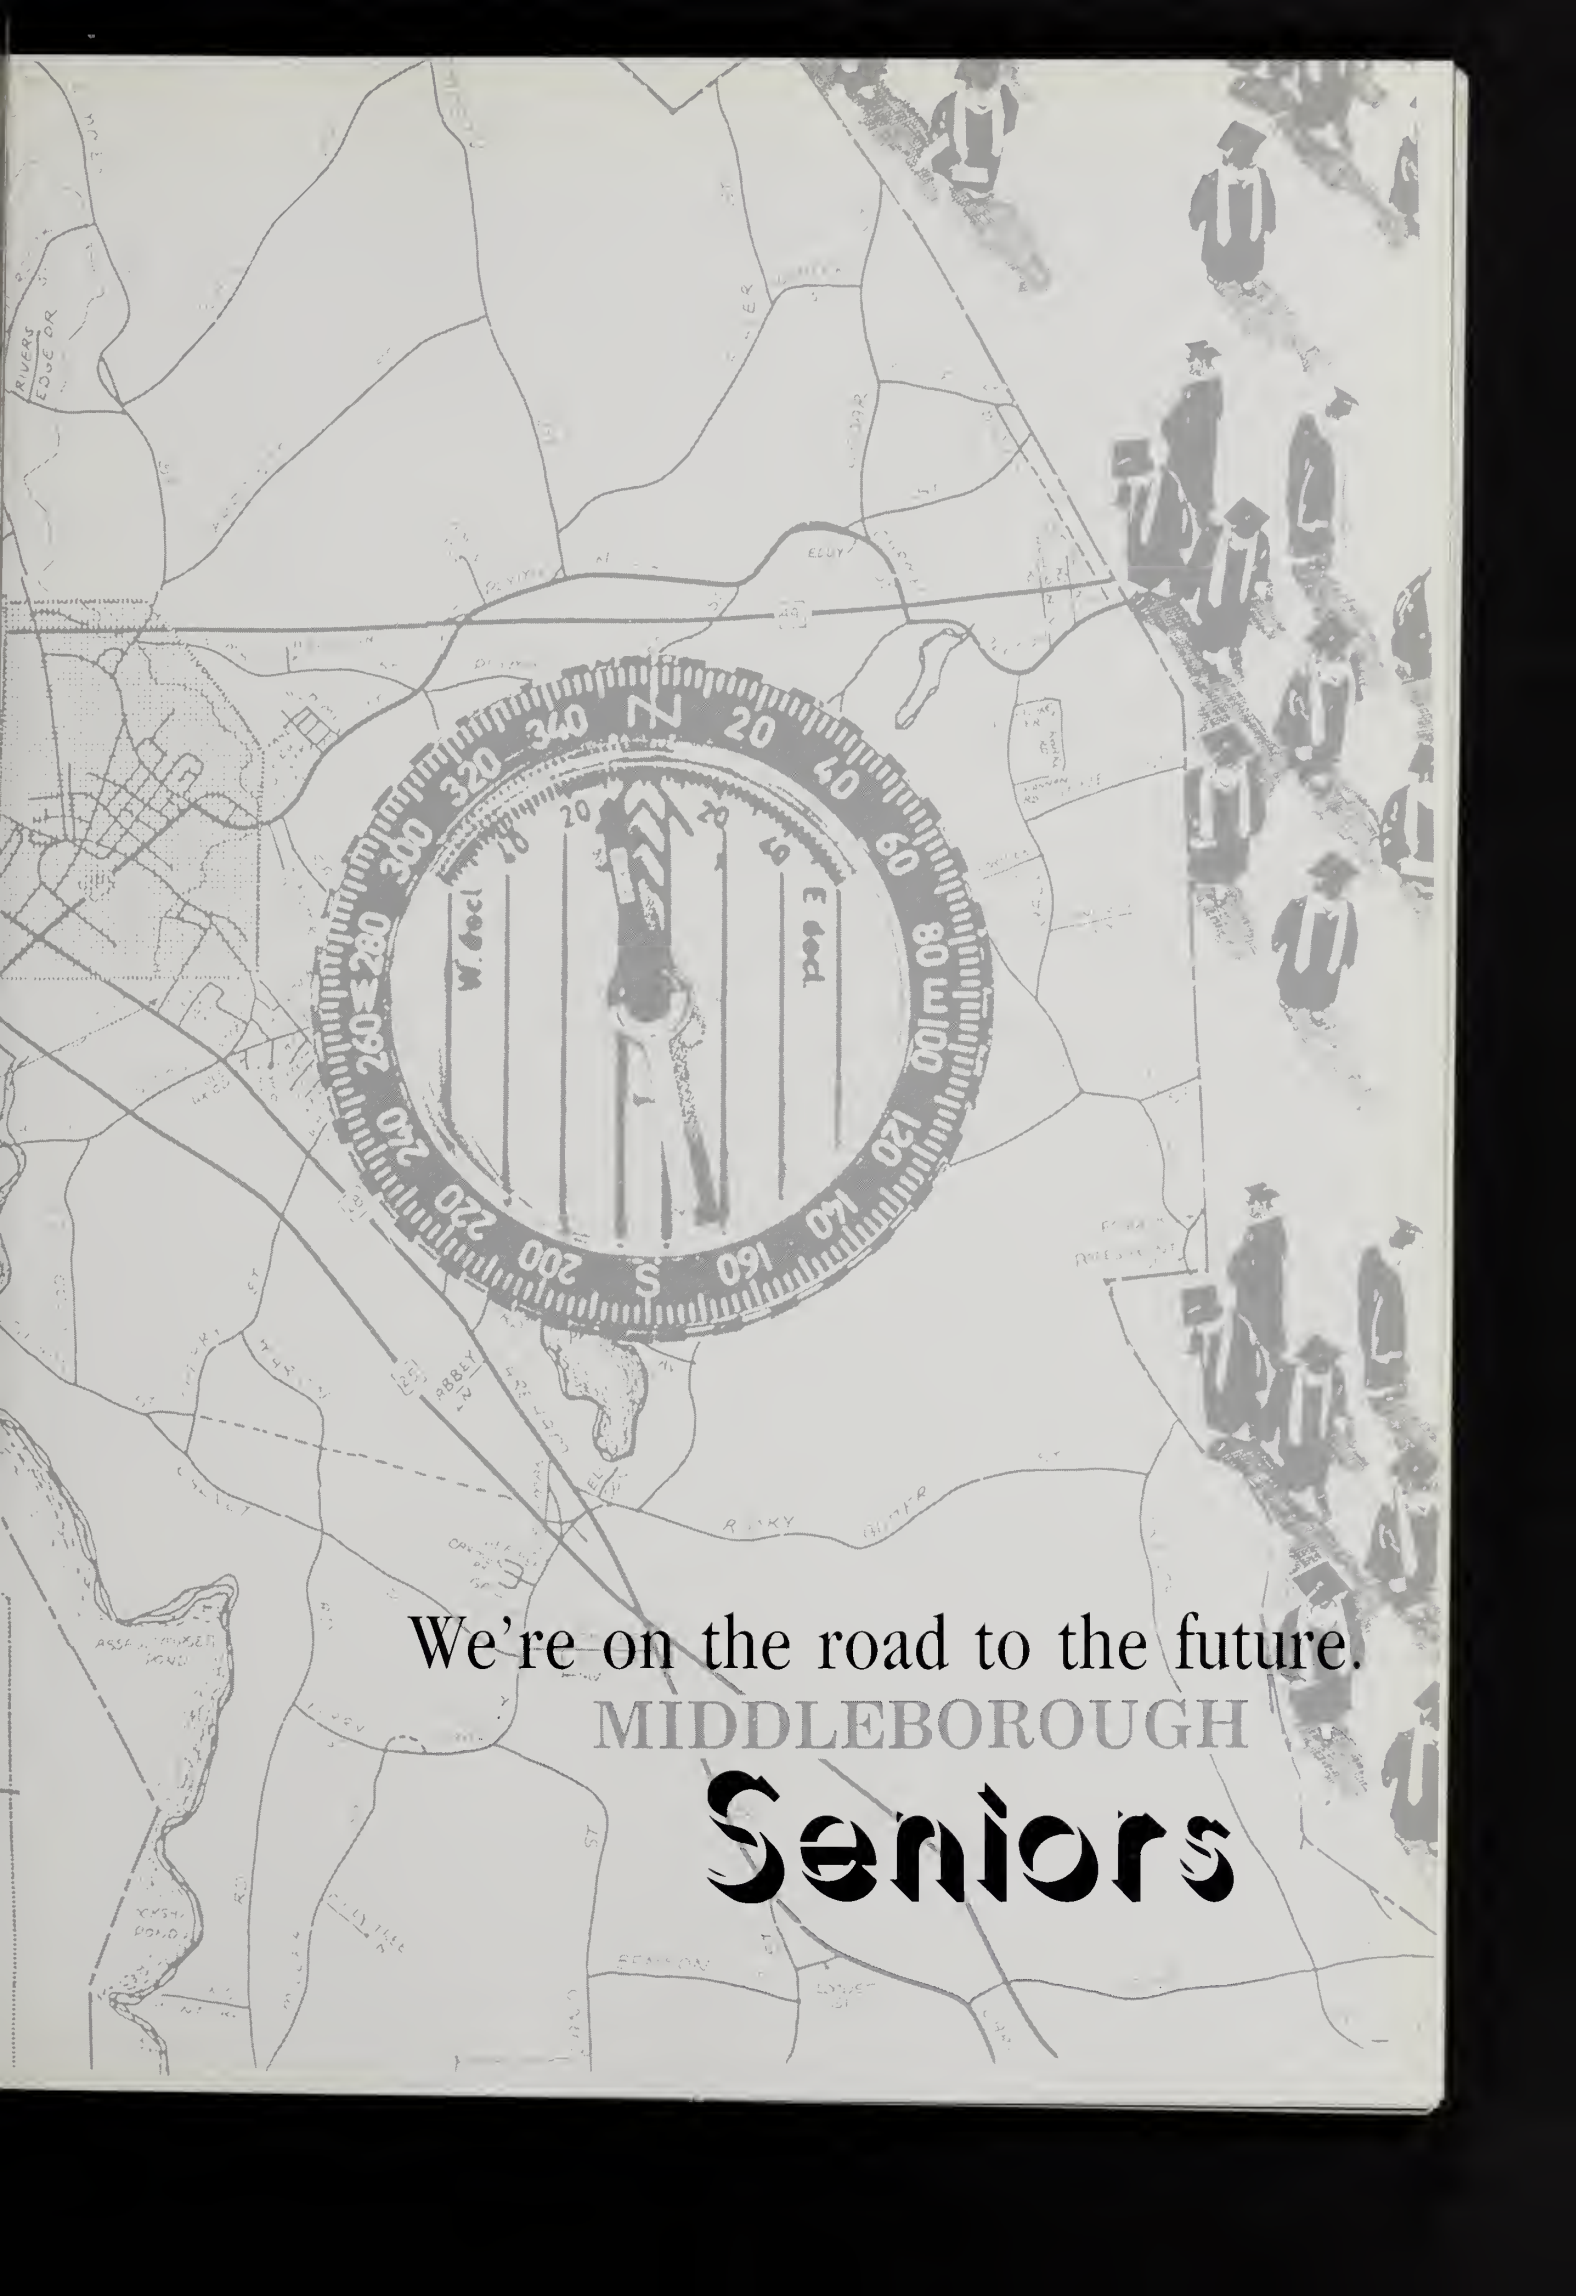

I want to extend my sincere best wishes to the Class of 1997 and want you to know that Middleboro has provided you with an excellent education.

In order to compete in the world that lies ahead you must continue to be a lifelong learner. Your education has only finished the first stage. Technology advances, changes in the workplace and the ever shifting global economy will require that you be current or ahead of the challenges that an ever changing world will bring. Some of you will be working at jobs in the year 2030 that we in 1997 haven't even thought of yet.

Look with excitement to the future, be prepared to deal with change before it deals you out. Demonstrate initiative and work cooperatively with others. Don't stop learning new things. Your future is bright. Don't let the lamp of knowledge and education burn out.

Another Day.... Just like the day before and most likely, it'll be just the same tomorrow. At least I'll get to do some of my favorite things. It begins at 6 am. As I wake up to the ferocious sounds of Cypress Hill and Method Man on 95.5 WBRU, I realize that I have to get ready for school! Oh no! I have an English paper due! It's a good thing that It's my favorite class. Maybe I shouldn't have stayed up late last night watching Seinfeld. Instead of doing my homework I'll just flip through the channels to find something to watch- maybe a little "Fat Albert." No, guess not-I've got to get to school! Thank goodness my Mustang is back from the repair shop. Here I am in school. First period is making me sleepy. We held a mock election and Ross Perot, Bill Clinton, and Rich Perry all tied for "Future Presidential Hopefuls." Well now on to Mrs. Russell's class- my favorite class of the day! There's just one problem. I got caught reading "Sports Illustrated" and got sent to the "Bullpen." All the chaos reminded me when Mrs. Wills caught me eating paste or the time Mrs. Joyce sent me to the office for flinging elastics! Everything seemed all too familiar to me. I can't wait until after school when I can just sit back with some popcorn and watch "Oprah." Flipping through the channels I find the same old news-the "New England Patriots" lost again! Hey, maybe I should give the gang a call. Maybe we'll go see the new movie with Claire Danes and Val Kilmer! We'll probably end up at - Friendly's. Where else would we go to see everyone? Thank goodness, I needed a break from all this madness!!! I'm glad I'm finally a senior. June will be my "Independence Day." FIN-AL-LY!

Freshman year, with the help of our advisors we "floated" in the Christmas parade.

Hold On To The

Seeing the sun sparkle on the water the other day, reminded me of that night. It was the 24th of May; everyone looked their best, dresses were shiny, faces smiling, and memories being created. Flashes of cameras lit up the room for a split second and capture the moment for all to see. There's only one Junior Prom and we "Held on to the Night!"

Henrique Coelho, better known to us as Max, hails from Brazil. While in the U.S. he is staying with Heidi Tanguay. Coming to a foreign country has been a very hard adjustment. Max has experienced this first hand. Eating different foods, speaking a different language, and living in a different climate, are only a few of the obstacles he has had to overcome. In his country, he is of legal age to drink even though he is only seventeen. There are more clubs for his age group. Though his adjustment here has been hard, he will leave us with memories of a very unique experience.

Best Friends, Christina Hannon and Sarah Gillis, show their affection for one another.

In Loving Memory

"Broken Moments"

Adrienne, we love you and we know that you are here to help us all get through this and wipe our every tear to hold our hand with love and comfort us through the pain and help us keep thinking straight and to keep us from going insane we care so much
whether we showed it when you were here most of us wish that we could have made that statement oh so clear you are God's sweet child now you are an angel above
you showed us so much caring you gave us so much love
now it's our turn to give all that we have to sort out all the grieving to pass up all the fears because there is nothing to fear except yourself being over taken by fear the emotional drain everyone is feeling they think is sure to never end but give about a year or two and they all start to pretend that the hurt, the pain,
the everlasting thought of losing one you love
does not,
no matter how hard you try,
go away.
So please don't let these Broken Moments stay . . .

To be a sophomore is to be "invisible." When you were a freshman you thought things could only get better. As a sophomore you find out you were wrong! After the thrill of picking on freshmen wears off, the only thing left to do is tons of homework. Sophomores often get lost in the high school. When you were a freshman, you were new to the high school and had four years to look forward to, thinking every year would be exciting. Alas! Not true! When you finally reach the ranks of an upperclassman as a junior you know that the prom is coming soon. You know that you have to start thinking about colleges. Senior year it's "you're outta here!" and you're moving on to bigger and better things. Reality sets in, you're still a sophomore for the next 180 days and can't do anything about it. So sit back, relax, and enjoy being "invisible."

Invisible! Yes, sophomores might be invisible, but after school you see us REAPPEAR!!!

Some of us spend our time working at a job . . . "After a hard day of school, I have an even harder afternoon of work at McDonald's with crying babies, annoyed customers, and the horrid smell of fast food."

— Anonymous.

While others work up a sweat at their games and practice . . . "My football practice consists of one lap around the field, stretching, and then come the drills!"

— Alex Carbone.

"My favorite time of the day is when I go to karate. It's just about the only time I can unwind from school."

— Jesse Austin

Some relax with other activities . . . "I go to Paintball Heaven and spend the whole day playing various games such as Capture the Flag, Seize, and Capture etc. . . ."

— Fred Krappe.

"This is the part of my day that I forget all about my other worries or problems and dance."

— Adrienne Fisher.

"I go the Espanol chat room on-line and ask them what they are talking about."

— Scott Steele.

Then there are those few who go home and just vegetate . . . "Everyday I rush home and flip on the TV to see my lovebug, Maury Povich!!"

— Becca Douglas

"When I go home after a long, boring day of school I listen to WBCN to unwind."

— John Tessier.

See, we sophomores DO have a life after all!!!

BEEP, BEEP, BEEP! I wake up as my mom opens my door and tells me it's quarter to six, I say okay and as she leaves I push the snooze button and turn over so I can have some more time to sleep. All of a sudden I hear my mom yelling up the stairs that it is six o'clock. I sit up and jump out of bed. I grab my clothes off my desk and run down stairs, almost tripping because I'm running so fast. I run into the bathroom and start the shower, I jump in.

When I get out, I get dressed, I eat breakfast. It's now about six-forty. My brother comes down and goes into the bathroom, but I ask him politely to get out because I need to do my hair, this usually causes a big argument, but I always win! I go into the bathroom and brush my hair and teeth. Then I go upstairs and put on my make-up. My brother tells me Joey's here. I go downstairs, and by that time it's seven-ten, I get my bag and my shoes on and say hi to Joe. As soon as I'm done with that, we're off! — Shannon Pope.

ATHLETICS

Boys' Basketball

How many pounds of air pressure does it take to fill a basketball?

About 13 pounds

A few last words of encouragement before tip-off.

Jerrall Corning is introduced.

Look out! The sky is falling!

Basketball was really fun this year. Coach Green worked us hard in practice, but it was all worth it when we got on the court for games.

One thing we'll not forget was the time the JV team went to 5 overtime periods and finally won by one point. By the time we got to play our game and got back to the school here it was almost 10:00 p.m.

The Seniors were good friends and teammates and we'll miss them next year. Playing basketball this year was a great experience and I can't wait till next season.

Team Roster

Jerrall Corning gets caught in traffic.

Farley shoots a fade-away.

Girls Basketball

What keeps the girls from having to run suicides?

Running laps while singing. "If you're happy and you know it . . ."

Roster

The girls basketball team doesn't have as many spectators as the boys team, but they have twice the fun.

Captains are Chrissy Hannon and Christiana Norvish. Co-captains are Kelly Lavin and Erin McKenna. These girls have led the varsity, J.V., and freshman teams through the season with smiles on their faces.

"This season was the best! The captains were nice, and I can't wait for the next season to start," reports a player.

Everyone had a great time and they even found a way to get out of running suicides. If they run laps and sing, "If you're happy and you know it . . ." they make Mr. Nelson happy and don't have to run as much.

"At the beginning of the season, we were just a group of girls. At the end of the season, we were all friends, and more importantly, a team," one Sachem explained.

"Even though we didn't win all of our games, it doesn't really matter. Sports are meant to be fun, and we had fun. As far as I can see, our mission is accomplished."

Jess Williams and Tarra Hill really get into the Sachem spirit!

The hair's really flying at this game!

Cheerleading

How many times during the season does a cheerleader lose her voice?

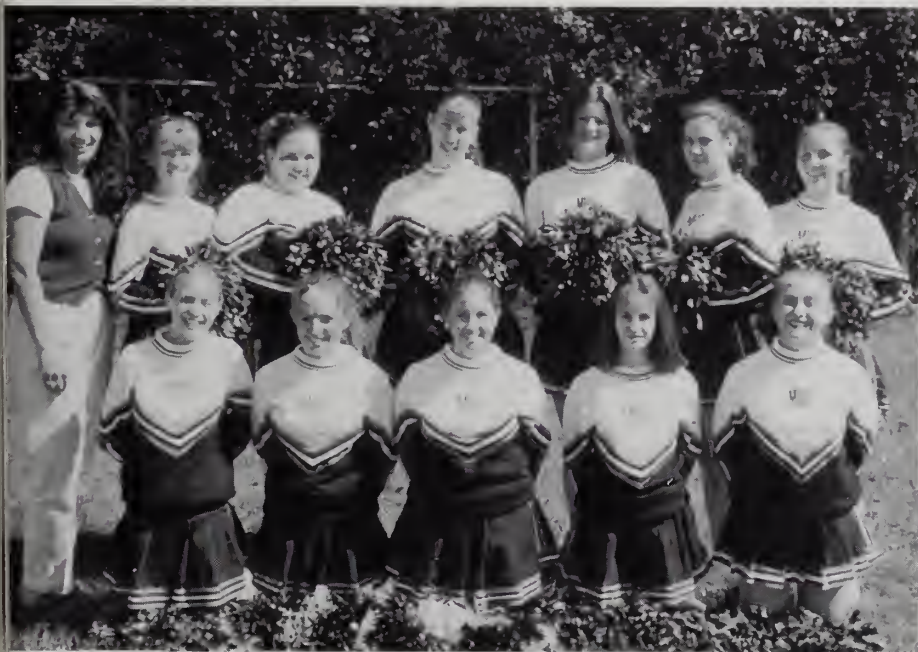

- a. 3 times
- b. 7 times
- c. too many to count

School's out. It's now 2:30, and I have cheerleading practice, so I have to go and prepare myself. First I need a pair of shorts, a T-shirt, socks, sneakers, and a scrunchie to put my hair up in a ponytail, so that my hair is not in the way of my cheering. Cheerleading is now about to begin until 4:30. We have practiced in the gymnasium where we then begin to do our stuff. We usually start off with simple stuff, stuff like jumps, cheers, and dancing. Then we get into more difficult things, for instance stunts and tumblers which take a lot of practice and concentration.

Well now that I've told you about cheerleading, I will tell you about my favorite part. Well first of all I love doing stunts, but you need a lot of concentration and a lot of body work. Second of all my most favorite is tumblers. Tumbling can be very easy and it can be very hard, and that also uses a lot of concentration and body work. Most of the tumblers I do take a lot of practice. I like to do front handsprings, somersaults, and aerials. Never try tumbling alone, because you could be badly hurt. You need an experienced person who knows what they're doing and a person to spot you. — Amy Tripolone

Cross-Country

Where does the cross-country team spend most of its training/running time?

The Leary girls share similar interests. One of them is cross-country — at which they excel.

Missing: Daryl Bradford, B. J. Goodrich, Brett Bradford, Carlos Cardova, Krissy Thrower, R. J. Leonard

We Run in the woods! Cross-country is running across the country (dirt, rocks, etc.). Track runners run on the track. Hence the name track.

Mike Emmonds, Bill Keily, and Chris Darcy have the determination to run a marathon . . . and win.

Krissy Thrower sprints through the woods during a workout.

When the 2:15 bell rings at the end of school, most people breathe a sigh of relief, but for me it's just a warning telling me that practice is about to start. I go down to the gym, change in the crowded, smelly locker room, hang out in the gym, and run for an hour and a half. Running is fun, even with all the things we have to deal with. Sprained ankles, stomach aches, passing out, leg pain, hill work, that stupid fog horn, and dealing with the embarrassment of the soccer team being faster than us are things we deal with. That isn't even half of the things we have to put up with during practice. All sports have to deal with similar difficulties. I like to run, even if I'm not the fastest. It's just something to do. It makes your day a few hours longer, but it's worth it.

Ryan Blanchard flies across the ground with amazing speed.

RJ Lenord uses all of his energy on his quick sprints.

Kristen Naylor competes for her team, and herself.

Cathy Bell, a Sachem senior, makes a spectacular save!

Melinda darts for the ball.

Nanette takes the ball.

The Sachem defense of Selena, Cathy, and Sarah, waits tentively for the ball.

FIELD HOCKEY

Two. Jen Freitas and Nickie Bourne.

How many eye injuries were sustained during the season?

Running from cafeteria study to my locker, I squeeze in and get my homework, coat and practice clothes. I then run down to the locker room and wait until I can finally get to my gym locker. I get all my things together and get changed, take my stick and water bottle to the field. We stand and talk until our coaches come out. We run a lap or two and then do our stretches. We jog over to our coaches and hear what we are going to do for practice. Then Varsity and JV separate getting ready for drills. We start doing drills on being spaced out or passing or talking to each other, work on the goalie with penalty strokes, corners, two on two and more. Then it's about time for a water break.

If we have a game the next day we'll usually run an ocean. Now it's about time for a scrimmage, we scrimmage until five p.m. then go into the locker room and get changed. Then the rest of the team and I go home. — Melanie Hunter

Varsity Football

How many total points did the Sachems score in the 1996 football season?

The bell rings and I know that my destination is clear — the locker room! As I get ready for practice by putting on my pads, I can smell a common smell. One I've been trying not to think about. The smell of sweat hangs around everyone; their clothes, lockers, and shoes all have the "locker room smell" to them. After I'm done changing, I head out to the field to warm-up by throwing or catching before the coach arrives. Then the team, as a whole, sprints and stretches before our water break. Then we practice our plays before we call it quits for the day. —

The football team scored:

A: 275 pts.

B: 177 pts.

C: 101 pts — (just like the Dalmatians.)

Our football team has a big game with a highly respected team. Will we win? Will we lose? Who knows, but I know that I'm gonna give it my all. In the locker room everyone is psyched and ready to go. The coaches are running the plays through their heads and sharing their opinions with each other. As I put on my equipment, I start getting that feeling of excitement along with the adrenaline flow. I'm ready to go as we load the bus, we all start to prepare ourselves mentally and physically. When we arrive at Battis Field, our home territory, we have to make sure that one thing is clear. We have to show the opponent who's turf they're on and who it is they're playing. —

At left, Tim Ross (34) looks to defend his fellow Sachems.

As the 1996 football season came to an end there were many changes and triumphs the team had to overcome. With the loss of coach Dennis Perozzi, the Sachems started off an unfamiliar season. But with new coaches and bigger staff, the Sachems held their own. With a great end to the 1996 football season, the Sachems brought home a victory on Thanksgiving day. The score 16-6 really reassured the team that if they put their minds, bodies, and souls to the test that anything is possible. The total record for the Sachems team was 3-4. What will happen next football season? Who knows, but the Sachems will be hard at work again and giving it their all.

The 1996 Sachems were lead by Pat Callahan (15), B. J. Murphy (31), Dustin Soule (40), and Mike Enos (12).

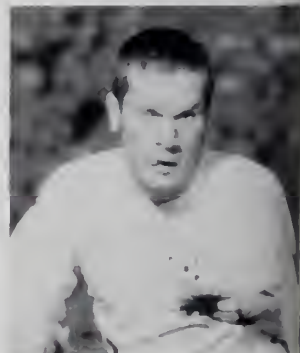

Nick Cummings (above) throws the ball in to Matt Cost (below) who shoots and scores.

UNDER THE LIGHTS

"I love playing an intense game of soccer under the lights at Battis Field. All the seats are full. It's 4-2 us and it's a crystal clear night. For me it's a totally different atmosphere out there with the crowd screaming, the lights at full blast, the announcer over the loud speaker, and the sweat pouring down my face. What a rush! These combined elements make me play the hardest soccer I've ever played before, and I'm totally into this game." — Dan Campbell

BOYS' SOCCER

What is the average shoe size of a soccer player?

SOCCER PRACTICE

Ah yes, grueling soccer practice. A time to put on our equipment and sacrifice ourselves to the soccer Gods.

Practice starts with two ocean laps around all the fields. When we catch our breath we start to stretch out, you don't want to pull a muscle during practice. While we are stretching, the coach talks to us about what we did wrong in the last game and what skills we need to work on. When we finish, we do a little conditioning. Coach will have us sprint ups and down hills or run more ocean laps. By the end of conditioning, we are all tired and ready to go home, but we haven't worked on skills yet. We have to work on ball handling and shooting which is much needed. After two and a half hours of this, we can go home. Then we all fall asleep so we can rest up for another day of school and practice.

Girls' Soccer

How many times is the ball kicked in the average game?

The average is 520 times during a game.

Goalie Christine McCarey kicks the ball back into play.

"When 3:00 rolls around ... my teammate and I get ready to run. Yes, I know most of us hate it, but it's worth it because it makes us ready for our soccer games. When the school bell rings at 2:15, I walk down to the gym to change into my practice gear. The smell of old dirt and sweat on my cleats and shinpads makes me eager to get on the playing field, get messy, and have fun.

When my teammates and I arrive on the field, Coach Costa makes us run two oceans. At first it's tiring, but soon after we get used to it and then it's a breeze. Then we toss the ball around and practice our shooting and special moves. The only exception to this rule is that if we fool around, we run extra laps around the field, and that's rough. Practice ends at 5:00 and my duty as a soccer player is finished until the next day when I'll have to do it all over again." — Cathy Cacciatore

Erin Sullivan contributes hard work and energy to her team.

As soon as you enter the Burkland pool, the humidity and the smell of chlorine is almost too much to bear. The crowd sits fanning themselves while the swimmers swim practice laps. Before the meet begins, the guys huddle together and say some type of cheer to get psyched up for the meet.

First, the swimmers line up on the blocks waiting for the whistle. They push off the block and focus on their main goal, which is to achieve their best time. They compete in events such as the 50, 100, 200, and 500 yard races. Once the relay races are completed, the swimmers remove the ropes and prepare for the diving competition.

The first diver steps on the board nervously and takes a deep breath before they catapult into the water. Throughout the meet you hear the coach giving some encouraging words and the team cheering each other on. Even though the Sachem Swimmers started off by losing their first two meets, they came back strong to win their last seven meets. After experiencing a Middleboro swim meet you know why the members of the team sum up the season by saying, "It's been real, it's been fun, it's been real fun!"

Brandon Floyd chooses to take the hard way into the pool.

Do you know how many tiles are in the Burkland pool?

603,357 tiles

Mike Sullivan takes a quick breath while doing the freestyle stroke.

Harris Benton takes a break from diving and focuses on the backstroke.

Once again Captain Joe Matthews leads the team to victory.

Senior, Scott Burrill, is going the distance.

Girls' Swimming

Can you guess how long that chlorine smell stays with the average MHS swimmer?

"Lara, Wait for me!" I just make the final ride down to the Burkland as I cram into the crowded station wagon. Before we go to swimming practice, we drive around downtown with the windows rolled down, yelling various comments to walkers. When we actually arrive at the school, we must sit out on the grass because the pool is all locked up. I usually spend the entire time talking to the other members and we make up rumors to circulate around the team. Although the vast majority involve me, it's still fun. When we're finally let into the pool, we horse around until the coach comes and the fun ends. The grueling practice then begins. This is my favorite part of the day with the exception of the of the actual practice. — Beth Petrillo

What weight class holds the most wrestlers in Division IV?

Wrestling has been a great experience for me. I've met a lot of great people and it has helped make me physically fit. I can't wait until next year to play again.

Our practice is hard but it's rewarding. For instance, if you are on J.V. and you challenge someone on varsity and you beat them, you take their spot. In order to keep that spot you have to beat everyone who challenges you. If you do that you get to be on varsity for that meet. — Anonymous

Cafeteria Canaries

Betty Ames

I came to work with Betty in 1974 thru 1994. I have so many good memories of our days working together in the MHS cafeteria. I will always remember the good times we shared. The way we would have the "spirit" on spirit week. We would dress up along with the students. Crazy hats on crazy hat day; and especially how we dressed in Pilgrim costumes to serve Thanksgiving dinner MHS style. Betty got us all to be good sports and join in. I always had my camera handy and Betty was always saying, "Where's the camera?" We all have many pictures of these memorable days. I always looked forward to going to work with Betty. She was a wonderful boss, and is a dear friend.

If you need to talk to a Student Council member in the morning, check the new Student Council homeroom. The homeroom allows members to get information and have meetings regularly. Several members feel that a separate homeroom is long overdue and extremely practical. As the student representatives of our school, Student Council sponsors spirit week, the penny drive, and flower sales.

Student Mock Election

While voters across the nation were trying to choose a new president, both social studies teachers and computer teachers at MHS helped organize a student mock election. "It gave them experience in researching issues, which they did, researching candidates, and understanding the whole electoral process," stated Mr. Bichsell, Social Studies Dept. Head. Who did Middleboro students choose? — President Clinton by a landslide.

Speech and Theatre Workshop

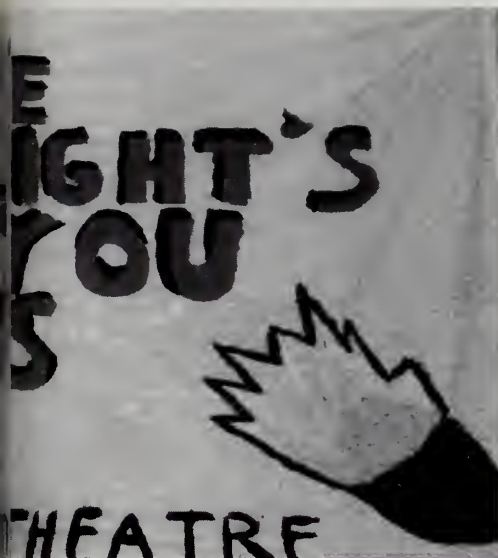

Not only is the on-stage performance a lot of work and effort, but so is the work done behind the scenes. Without the help of technicians and stage crew members, such as Joe Mullaney, the performances by STW would not be possible.

Speech and Theatre Officers

Jenn Butler, Vice-President
Emily Stevens, Business Manager
Angela Fleming, Secretary

Speech and Theatre Workshop is an organization that is not only a tradition to MHS, but is a loving, caring family to its members. The actors and actresses that participate in STW have to spend hours of hard work and perseverance to put on the many creative productions that entertain us all.

The Crew (not pictured): Corey Rodriguez, Brianne Brady, Gretchen Holloway, Jessica Krebs, Heather Travassos, Jess Neagle.

Margaret Daniels aka Phoebe Potter.

Jen Waite and Tyler Stevens as Sweet Pea Meadowbrook and Dick Simmering.

For the annual drama production this year, the Students of STW proclaimed that they wanted a comedy. The hilariously funny "Death By Chocolate" was chosen. This side splitting murder-mystery takes place at the Meadowbrook Health Resort, a converted mansion in upstate New York.

The plot is anything but simple. The owner of the resort, Henry Meadowbrook (Seth Cook) is tragically shot in his office. Alfred Mellox (Mike Sullivan), the butler, finds Henry and makes the murder look like suicide. Several weeks later, on the eve of the Grand re-opening of the Resort, the new owner, Lady Riverdale (Jenn Butler), introduces the staff to the new manager John Stone (Sam Bradford). During the staff meeting, the cook, Edith Chiles (Emily Stevens), claims she's been poisoned and dies.

Lynn Bettencourt as Anne.

Shortly after, she is followed by another victim, the arrogant gym manager, Ralph Deadwood (Tyler Dobrowsky). Stone and a visiting murder-mystery playwright, Ed Parlor (Mike Cook) find out that it is Lady Riverdale's chocolates which are poisoning the staff! Stone and Parlor interrogate the employees to try to discover the killer. It isn't Anne, the drug addicted nurse (Lynn Bettencourt), the perky aerobics instructor Dick Simmering (Tyler Stevens) or Dyslexia the secretary (Kassie Hartford). The culprit turns out to be the least suspected one — Sweet Pea Meadowbrook (Jen Waite), the incredibly obese, illegitimate daughter of Henry Meadowbrook. She was in cahoots with her real father, Alfred the butler, to slowly destroy the Health Resort. It's too bad they were caught by the detective in disguise, Margaret Daniels (Phoebe Potter)!

"Band was fun. I got a chance to meet a lot of interesting people from different schools at all the music festivals. This year the band did a great job at the football games, especially the Thanksgiving Day game. The band really helped us to our victory that day."

-Mike Totman

Majorettes

"Three, two, one, zero! It's the end of the first half of the football game and the football players begin to pile off the field. At the same time, the band and the majorettes fight their way through the crowd and onto the wet and muddy field. The drum majorette blows her whistle and the band begins to play their music, while I begin to twirl my baton. It's a cold night and I feel frozen in my orange and black polyester uniform. I, however, must try to keep a smile on my face. I perform the routine hoping to make no mistakes and within no time the band plays our school's theme song, "Hail to the Varsity," making the end of the half-time show. As the song ends, I finish my twirls and pose, smiling happily because the half-time show is over." — written by Jen Freitas.

Coach Tracey Gossen.

Timaron 1997 — Published by Taylor Publishing Company in Dallas, Texas. Press run: 275. Representative Mr. Conrad Schmidt. Cover: littocote. Paper: 80lb. Enamel. Headline type: Durante. Body copy and text: Gar- amond Condensed. Senior and underclass photography by Purdy Vantline. Price per 160 page book with 20 page graduation/spring supplement: $50. Spring delivery.

It's time to go, it's time to say good bye, I really thought it might never end. But maybe some day if we're lucky our paths will cross again. Until that day I'll say farewell my friend.
